Cameron school board elections will be quiet April 4 with Dr. David Shapiro and Niley J. Smith running unopposed for re-election while school election battles are brewing in two county towns.

Nine candidates have filed for three expiring terms on the Thorndale school board and at Milano, in a heated contest, seven candidates have filed for three expiring terms.

A survey team was turning angles and taping distances along US 77 East just outside the city limits one day last week.

And a resident of the area, thinking the crew was checking out data for the widening of US 77, asked an engineer when the project would begin.

The engineer noted that this crew was not working on the highway, but was checking out levels and other data in connection with construction of another reservoir at Lampasas.

It seems that the Lampasas project will provide additional water for future irrigation of this area's farmland. Completion of the Lampasas Dam is a distant reality of about six years.

With the numerous road projects underway in the Cameron area, it's kind of difficult for property owners to know what survey crew goes where.

Beautiful spring days have been our weather fare for the past few days. But did anyone notice the dust? Ah choo. We did.

It is nice to clean house or wash the car or tidy up the office, then, ah choo, watch the dust filter through. Even without a sinus condition, you're inclined to think you have something nasal.

Speaking of weather, everyone surely noticed the unusual "collision" of the quarter moon and the planet Venus a couple of weeks ago.

If you recall, Venus, more familiarly known as the Evening Star, looked as if it were balanced on the tip of the moon.

Numerous people called The Herald and wondered "who fired the Sputnik". At first glance it looked like some tremendous explosion had lighted up one end of the moon.

But experts explained the phenomena as an optical illusion as people from our section of the earth looked up to see Venus, about 100,000,000 miles (?) away, pass behind the moon 288,000 miles away.

It looked as if Nikita Krushchev might have landed his "Lunik" after all.

It seems there is a popular movement underway called: "How I Saved My Family From Television."

None too soon, magazines are beginning to run articles on the changes TV has wrought on U. S. family life. The first I've read indicates the result has been none too good.

One author tells how he wound up his courage and started turning to old-fashioned conversation and books rather than turning on three hours nightly of murder, melodrama and mediocrity.

His family found time for homework, supper at the table and the eccentricities of normal life, sans TV, says the writer.

I say (ah choo) excuse me, hurrah!

Seeking re-election in Thorndale are Carl Linke and Rein Zieschang. C. L. Yount, whose term also expires, is not running for re-election.

Others who have filed are Delma E. Kiesling, B. B. McNulty, Graham Dickerson, Gus Schramm, Robert Hoskins, Charles Becker and Murrell Rogers.

Expiring terms on Milano's school board belong to A. W. Kornegay, Charlie Morgan, and Marcus Bankston. Morgan and Bankston are seeking re-election. Other candidates who have filed are C. W. Talbot, Lee Keen, Giles Yockum, Willie Roschetzky, and Don Simmons.

The Milano school board last week added a two year contract to the one year left on Supt. W. W. Wilson's present contract. He has held the position of superintendent of schools in Milano for the past five years.

The only other contested election in the county will be in Burlington where LeRoy Chollett, Lee Heltner and Max Schutze have filed for the two board openings.

Running unopposed will be: M. C. Perry, Dr. John T. Richards, and J. G. Ralston seeking re-election in Rockdale; Harry Wayne Clark and James L. Terry in San Gabriel; Boyd Offield and G. H. Young Jr. in Sharp; John Burts and Carl Von Gonten for Buckholts and Brown J. Ely and O. C. Partridge in Gause.

Running unopposed for County School Board from Commissioner's Precinct No. 3 is W. L. Howell and from Commissioner's Precinct No. 4 Weldon Gilchrist.

Concerted interest in the Milam School district has developed in the past three weeks.

Garden Club To Give Free Plants

The Civic Garden Club will sponsor its third Free Plant Distribution Center Saturday morning starting at 9:30 in front of the building formerly occupied by Safeway on West Main Street.

Club members will donate plants for free distribution and Mrs. R. G. Grabein, Civic Garden Club President, announced that anyone with surplus plants was invited to bring them to the distribution center.

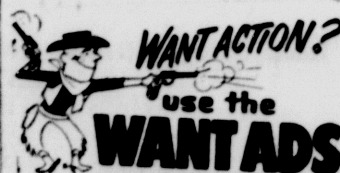

Mrs. Grabein pointed out that thousands of plants have been conserved in the Cameron area through the free distribution project.

Milam Well Hits 3,000-Foot Depth

The Dan Harrison Jr. No. 1 Gus Schramm, deep wildcard located in western Milam County in the Tracy-Sharp area, was spudded in on February 12, and reportedly was drilling below 3,000 feet late last week.

The test is permitted to 6,000 feet. Location is about 8½ miles northwest of Rockdale in the Juan Jose Acosta Survey on a 5,000 lease block which Harrison has assembled in that area.

The well was reported coring at 2200 feet on Monday of last week, but later was drilling ahead at the rate of 800 feet a day.

Moseley Is Named McCullin Winner

Richard Moseley, Cameron businessman and Chamber manager, was named McCullin Award winner for 1958 at the Chamber banquet last week.

His award followed a speech on "What Makes a Town Tick" by Dr. Arthur A. Smith, vice-president and economist of First National Bank, Dallas.

The McCullin Award was presented to Moseley for outstanding citizenship work in Scouting, church, professional and civic work. It was presented by the 1957 award winner, Mrs. Dana Monroe.

He was cited for his work in the First Baptist Church where he is a deacon and Sunday School superintendent; Scoutleader, city councilman, chairman of the Red Cross Bloodmobile program and Chamber manager.

Dr. Smith said that people, more than any other factor, are the motivating force in a community's life and said it's what is done with "what we have that counts."

A crowd of about 320 Chamber members, families and out-of-town guests attended the program. Hilliard Thomas, outgoing president, acted as master of ceremonies.

Milton Schiller, incoming president, told the group of his appreciation for their confidence in electing him Chamber president.

Dr. Smith listed agriculture statistics showing the effect of mechanization and farm subsidy programs on agriculture.

Accident Claims Rev. Duda, Couple

Funeral services were held Friday and Saturday at St. Monica's Catholic Church for the Very Rev. George Duda, 71, Frank Polansky, 68, and his wife, Mrs. Mary Polansky, 56, all of Cameron who died in a one-car accident March 18 near Bellville.

Rev. Duda and Mr. and Mrs. Polansky were killed when Rev. Duda's 1958 Buick left the roadway of US 36 about 1.1 miles from Bellville and crashed in a deep ravine, according to state highway officials.

The accident occurred about 5:45 p.m. March 18. There were no witnesses.

Officials said the Cameron priest's car apparently lurched momentarily off to the right, then was pulled back and plunged into a ravine. The vehicle was found on its wheels, but apparently had slammed sideways when it stopped.

State patrol officials believed that Rev. Duda had been driving. Rev. Duda, pastor of St. Monica's Catholic Church, and Mr. and Mrs. Polansky were returning from Houston where they had visited Polansky's son, Lee Frank Polansky, who is studying in St. Mary's Seminary, Houston, and will be ordained a priest in June.

News of the tragic accident veiled Cameron over the week end. Rev. Duda had been pastor of St. Monica's for almost 20 years and had been instrumental in building the present church rectory, convent and Simon-George Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Polansky were well known in Cameron. He was a retired employee of Lone Star Gas Co. They had lived in Cameron for 32 years.

Rev. Duda attained the highest award in Scouting service, the Silver Beaver, last year, and was a member of the executive board of the Heart O' Texas Boy Scout Council.

The Rev. Alfred Kallus, assistant pastor of St. Monica's, said "the Catholics of this parish have lost a wonderful shepherd and all Cameron has lost a good friend."

Mr., Mrs. Polansky

Joint funeral services were held 10 a.m. Friday at St. Monica's Catholic Church for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Polansky, Cameron. Interment followed in St. Monica's Cemetery.

Celebrant was the Rev. Clyde Holtman, Smithville, and deacon was the Rev. Lee Polansky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Polansky. The Rev. Alfred Kallus, assistant pastor of St. Monica's was sub-deacon. Preacher was the Rev. Leonard Buckemper, Westphalia. Ministers of the mass were Seminarians from St. Mary's Seminary, Houston.

Mrs. Polansky, 56, was born in Frerstat, Texas, and had lived in Cameron 32 years. She was a member of St. Rita's Circle.

Polansky, 68, was a retired employee of Lone Star Gas Co. He was a member of the Cameron American Legion and a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Surviving Mrs. Polansky are: a son, Lee; a daughter, Mrs. Loretta Brock, Cameron; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vykoukal, Sealy; and three half-sisters, Mrs. Raymond Schoppe, Lyons, Mrs. Martha Krynstinak, Grand Prairie and Mrs. Walter Grygar, Temple, and a grand-daughter.

2 Churches Plan Services Friday; No City Program

Two Cameron churches will hold Good Friday services tomorrow afternoon and a sunrise communion service is scheduled Easter morning.

The Cameron Ministerial Alliance will not hold a combined Good Friday service as has been the practice in previous years, according to the Rev. H. M. Bowley, president.

Richard Moseley, manager of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce announced that Cameron business would remain open Friday afternoon although business men were making special arrangements for employees wishing to attend the two services scheduled.

Good Friday services at St. Monica's Catholic Church and All Saints Episcopal Church will begin at 12 noon.

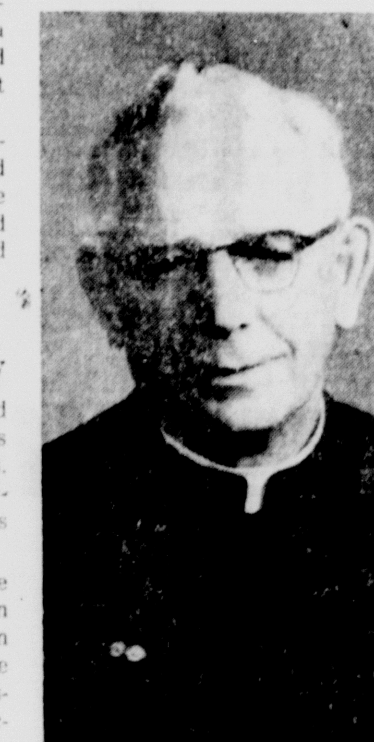

Cameron's First Methodist and First Christian Churches will combine for an Easter Sunrise Communion Service beginning at 6:30 a.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church.

The Rev. E. J. Davis, pastor of the Methodist Church, announced that breakfast would be served by the men of both churches following the service. He added that a nursery would be provided for small children and that the service was open to the public.

Hospital Seeks Federal Grant

Newton Memorial Hospital was among 11 applicants heard last week by the State Board of Health in Austin, seeking federal hospital aid matching funds under the Hill-Burton Act.

Applications ranged from requests for new construction to supplementary grants for addition to buildings and equipment, reports said.

The Rev. George Duda

lue and Mrs. Adolph Feleman, all of Sealy and a grand-daughter.

Surviving Polansky are: a son, Lee; a daughter, Mrs. Loretta Brock, Cameron; stepmother, Mrs. Mary Polansky, Lyons; four brothers Robert J. Bryan, Lewis R. Caldwell, Julius A. Dime Box, and Fred A. Dallas; two half-brothers Stanley, Caldwell, and Jerry Polansky, Taylor; three sisters, Mrs. George Kocurek and Mrs. E. W. Beran, both of Caldwell and Mrs. Annet Vykoukal, Baytown; and three half-sisters, Mrs. Raymond Schoppe, Lyons, Mrs. Martha Krynstinak, Grand Prairie and Mrs. Walter Grygar, Temple, and a grand-daughter.

Surviving are a brother, Joseph Duda, Crystal Beach, Fla., and two sisters, Mrs. Marie Munzer of Germany and Miss Elizabeth Duda of Kerrville.

He attended two Boy Scout World Jamborees, served on the executive board of the Heart O' Texas Boy Scout Council, received Scoutings highest service honor, the Silver Beaver and acted as a field commissioner for the Council.

About 100 Catholic clergymen from throughout Texas and an estimated 700 parishioners and friends attended the funeral services.

Rev. Duda was born in Berlin, Germany, August 7, 1887. Most of his early Catholic training was in Holland before he came to the United States in 1913. He completed his studies at St. Mary's Seminary, LaPorte and was ordained in 1914. He served as an assistant pastor in Houston and Beaumont before going to Tours.

Carpets Keep New Look

With proper care wall to wall carpeting will retain the new look.

Correct cleaning methods have seemingly been a mystery and controversial even to carpet manufacturers. After much research a product is on the market that cleans and fluffs up beat down carpet paths plus removal of spots thereby maintaining the new look. The textile engineer of a large carpet mill says— "It's the best we've found."

The product is Blue Lustre. It is easily applied with a long handle brush. One half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

Civic Garden Club Reviews American Colorist Thursday

Mrs. Leo Fuchs summarized the booklet, "The American Colorist" by Faber Birren, when the Civic Garden Club met last Thursday for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Fuchs emphasized that the color circle has two main divisions, warmth and coolness. The warm hues are magenta, red, orange, chrome and yellow, while the cool hues are green, jade, turquoise, blue and violet. She further stressed that warm hues are more advancing and cool hues, retreating. Displayed during the review was a chart indicating the seven forms in the world of color. In a short business session conducted by Mrs. R. G. Grahe, president, the members voted to sponsor another "Free Plant Distribution Center" Saturday. In other business, Mrs. Fuchs, flower show chairman, presented schedules for the placement flower show, scheduled for April 22.

Texas '58 Net Farm Income Up 79 Percent

Net income realized by Texas farmers in 1958 averaged $3,254 per farm, 79 per cent more than in 1957, according to preliminary estimates of the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Realized net income is the amount available for spending after farm production expenses were paid. Realized gross income per farm in Texas averaged $8,999 in 1958. This is $2,187 more than in 1957.

Cotton was responsible for more than half the increase in total cash receipts. Sorghum grain, wheat and cattle also showed substantial gains. But production expenses, especially depreciation charges, feed, livestock and hired labor, also rose.

Texas farmers increased inventories of crop and livestock in 1958. Total net income, which includes an allowance for these changes in inventories, averaged $3,262. A year earlier it was $2,431.

For the United States, realized net income averaged $2,750 per farm in 1958. This was 23 per cent more than in 1957 and the third highest amount on record. Because of larger inventories, the total net income per farm showed an even greater increase. The average of $2,985 per farm was 25 per cent more than in 1957, and second only to the 1948 record of $3,056.

The total tonnage of fertilizer sold during the last half of 1958 in Texas was 4.2 per cent over the same period in 1957 but 20 per cent above the tonnage sold during the same period in 1953. The trend toward the use of higher analysis fertilizers continued its rapid pace, according to a report from Dr. J. F. Fudge, state chemist.

TEC Announces Openings For Appeal Referees

Charles S. Gardiner, director of the Merit System Council, today announced that the Texas Employment Commission is in need of appeals referees for assignment in the central office in Austin and in some of the field offices located in various sections of the state.

He said that the selection of employees for these assignments will be made from registers to be established through open competitive examinations which will be offered during the months of March, April, May and June, 1959.

Gardiner listed the starting salaries as $382.50 for appeals referee III, $417.50 for appeals referee II, and $492.50 for appeals referee I and said that information about the examinations, minimum qualifications, and all the necessary forms for making application can be secured at any office of the Texas employment commission or by writing the Merit System Council at Post Office Box 671 in Austin.

Swine Short Course

The eighth annual Swine Short Course will be held at Texas A & M College, April 6-7. Major program emphasis is directed toward making swine production in the state more efficient. According to T. D. Tanksley Jr., extension animal husbandman, a feature of the two-day meeting will be the first sale of production tested boars in the southwest. Eight breeds will be represented in the sale offerings and it is scheduled for Monday evening, April 6 at 7:30 p.m. at the A & M Beef Cattle Center.

County Agent Reports

Cotton Meeting Is Success In County

By J. D. Moore

The County cotton meeting was well attended last week with a large number of interested farmers present. Mr. Fred Elliott, cotton work specialist from A & M College re-emphasized the need for mechanical production of cotton in order to cut cost figures. Cotton should be spaced at the rate of 3 to 4 plants per foot for best conditions for machine harvest. Several practices to combat small grass and weed control were discussed. Proper use of the rotary hoe, lateral oiling and spot oiling of Johnson grass headed the list. These practices are not only more economical but are more effective. Oiling Johnson grass kills the roots thereby reducing further hoe bills.

Lower moisture conditions were stressed as being more ideal for machine harvesting of cotton. Mr. Elliott demonstrated a small hand machine for determining moisture content of cotton. Experimental tests show that moisture conditions are generally too high from 6 a.m. to 9 a.m. for machine harvesting of cotton.

Slatted side cotton trailers with enough capacity to haul cotton to the gin without over packing the cotton was re-emphasized.

Defoliants

Proper defoliants for killing the leaves on cotton were divided into two groups, namely, true defoliants and desiccants. True defoliants such as Flox and D. E. F. cause the cotton leaves to drop off the stalk and are used with the cotton picker.

Desiccants such as Penta and arsenic acid kill the leaves but the leaves stay on the stalk. These defoliants are used for stripper harvest use. About 40 per cent of the Milam cotton was mechanical harvested last year. The cotton stripper was most widely used for machine harvesting of cotton. Figures show that farmers save around 30 dollars per bale by machine harvesting their cotton crop.

Mr. John Box, agronomist with the Extension Service discussed the soil fertility and irrigation of cotton. Physical arrangements of the soil profile and its effect on water and air movement in the soil was the main text of Mr. Box's talk. He emphasized the need for farmers to study carefully the management of the stalk residue as related to maximum water and air intake into the soil as well as the nitrogen level.

Generally, it is a good practice to add 40 to 60 pounds of nitrogen to maize and other residue type stubble preceding fall plowing to help keep the nitrogen level of the soil supplied.

Pecan Crop Disease, Insects Discussed

"Pecan Diseases and Insects and Their Control" is the title of a bulletin released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

This 19-page publication contains discussions of diseases of leaves, nuts and roots, nonparasitic plants on the limbs and bark, insects attacking the foliage and other related topics. It is available free of charge from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for only when needed.

Cotton Insects

Cotton insects were discussed by Mr. C. F. Garner, Extension Entomologist. He reported that cotton flea hoppers showed quite a bit of tolerance to the chlorinated hydrocarbons as well as boll weevils. Mr. Garner pointed out the need for farmers to examine their cotton fields and apply poisons only when needed.

In discussing the 1959 guide for controlling cotton insects, Mr. Garner explained the major change in recommendations was to add malathion, methyl parathion or Guthion to the regular spray material when insects are hard to control. Mr. Garner also pointed out that farmers may have to forget about protecting beneficial insects if it is found advisable to do so. 1959 cotton insect control guides are available at the county agents office. Dr. Pat Wotten of the Agricultural Economics Department of Texas A & M College briefly discussed economic aspects of cotton production.

He showed charts comparing the A and B plans for cotton production for 1959. He also pointed out the decline in per capita consumption of cotton as compared to the increase use of synthetics.

A special guest from Texas A & M College was Mr. Fred Walker, administrative assistant, Extension Service. Mr. Walker spoke briefly and pointed out the need for farmers to use all available sources of research and know-how in order to survive in this age of mechanization.

Refreshments of home-made pies and coffee were served by the Home Demonstration women of the Cameron clubs.

The county cotton meeting is an annual event ably sponsored by the Farm Bureau and the Extension Service.

"Ammonia can't be beat for the money and results!"

Paul Sulak (left) and Oldrich Sulak, operate 800 acres near Hillsboro. Paul Sulak says: "We've obtained outstanding results on grain sorghum and cotton. On sorghum we apply 60 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia pre-plant. Yields have been increased about 1460 pounds per acre. We apply 75 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia pre-plant on cotton. Yields have been increased 1/3 to 1/2 bale per the acre."

"We think this is very good, considering the fact that we have an average of only 28 inches of rainfall per year. Phillips 66 Ammonia can't be beat for the money and the results."

Other successful Texas farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are boosted through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied by you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

University High Leads

Records Broken Saturday
At Annual Cameron Relay

The 24th Annual Cameron Relays were held here last Saturday with two records falling in the event despite cold and windy weather.

University High of Waco walked away with top honors winning 3 events and placing in 7.

Of the 32 schools accepting invitations 18 were in Cameron for the meet due to bad weather. The schedule had to be changed with finals held in the afternoon instead of at night.

Universities Dub Allen set a new record for the mile run Saturday pacing himself beautifully and clocking a 4:36.5 mark. The record was held by J. Walker of Port Arthur in 1946 with a 4:43.3 time.

Harry Turner of Spring Branch set a record in the discus throw of 153 feet. Chino of Belton had held the record since 1956 with a 149 feet 11 in.

The University had a total of 26½ points followed closely by Temple with 26. The Waco Tigers were third with 19 and Spring Branch and Rockdale tied for fourth with 15½ points.

Individual honors went to Bill Hall, sprinter with 11 and Jim Cowan of Smiley with 10.

A Coaches Golf tournament was held at noon with Don Evans of LaVega coping first place.

Here are the final statistics: 120 yard high hurdles

120 yard high hurdles, Allen, Rosebud, 16-2; Hall, Temple, Jordan, Spring Branch, Lee, Waco.

100 yard dash: Cowan, Smiley, 16-6; Jenkins, Rockdale; Sybert, Temple; and Mraz, Temple.

440 yard dash: McBride, Rockdale-52-9; Steffee, Rogers; Compton, Waco; and Morris, Waco.

180 yard low hurdles: Hall, Temple-21-1; Allen, Rosebud; Cox, University; and Jordan, Smiley.

440 yard relay: Spring Branch-44-9; Temple, University, and Waco.

320 yard dash: Dazell, University-2:52; Benton, University; Anderson, Waco and Freeman, University.

220 yard dash: Cowan, Smiley-23-4; Hall, Temple; Farley, Temple, and Caffey, Thorndale.

Mile Run: Allen, University-4:36-5; Moy, Belton; Baker, Waco; and Segrist, University.

5 Mile Relay: University, 3:37-5; Waco, tie, Rockdale and Spring Branch.

High Jump: Epivey, Waco 5-10; Caffey, Thorndale; Garland, University; and Ellis, Crockett.

Broad Jump: Scurluck, Rockdale 20-23; Dodson, Cameron; Tucker, Rogers, and Ellis, Crockett.

Pole Vault: Kelly, Temple, Tucker, Rogers, Smith, Waco; and Whitaker, University.

Shot Put: Evans, Thorndale-53-2; Imman, Belton; Bryant, Belton; and Holliman, Rockdale.

Discus: Turner, Spring Branch-153; Imman, Belton; Evans, Thorndale, and Tallan, Spring Branch.

Colleges and universities must have enough money to compete for qualified personnel and to provide research and other facilities to attract competent teaching talent.

As costly as inflation and the pace of the technological revolution has made some of the modern equipment, it is necessary if our graduates are to be equipped for the tasks of today.

Future Impact

I need not tell you the need for more and better-trained technical manpower for the future business and industry in our communities and in our state. The greatest single factor in the quality and quantity of this supply now is the condition of our state colleges and universities.

According to the Texas Employment Commission, forty-five percent of the technical manpower Texas industry comes from the 18 state colleges and universities and 30% from out-of-state schools. A closer look, however, is more revealing. A study of 13 large industrial concerns, employing a total of 61,000 people in Texas, shows that of their employees earning more than $10,000 a year, only forty per cent are graduates of Texas institutions and sixty per cent are graduates of out-of-state schools. We are supplying the bulk of the $10,000-and-under men, while the top positions are going to outsiders. Is this the way we want to build our industrial empire in Texas?

We have had other unpleasant reminders of the inadequacy of our Texas educational system. More than one Texas business man, engaged in the encouragement of major industry to come into our state, has come up against this question. "When are you going to bring your colleges and universities up to par? We must have a steady supply of highly skilled men close at hand for the future development of our company. We need an environment suited to the best work of our top technical people. Where in Texas will they find libraries and research facilities of the type they are accustomed to having elsewhere?"

We believe the people of Texas are entitled to know the facts. And we are convinced that Texans are ready to pay a fair price for a first-rate educational opportunity in their home state for their sons and daughters, who are the future strength of our families, our communities, our state and our nation.

Unknown to many Cameronites but an interesting fact to note, Cameron at one time sponsored a professional baseball team.

The club was organized in 1921 by A. L. Pope on a professional basis.

The Central Texas League, as it was called, consisted of teams from Waco, Austin, Marlin, Temple, Taylor and a couple of more locations that the files of the Herald failed to recognize.

The agreement was that the teams played a three month season and that any number of players could be placed on a team's payroll.

The less important games were played in smaller towns on Saturdays while the bigger attractions were played in the leagues finer locations.

V O S

Allen (Dit) Dodson was Cameron's only athlete competing in the Cotton Ball Relays last Saturday in Taylor with any success. Dodson placed third in the broad-jump.

V O S

Last week a meeting was held by Babe Ruth League officials in which plans were made for the coming summer Baseball Program. Eldon Batte is president of the league.

V O S

A short time ago The Herald urged sport fans to start attending a few Yoe basketball games to equal the football spirit around Cameron. Now we are doing the same thing this time concerning baseball.

The Yoemen have as yet to give a bad showing despite losing their only game, which is no disgrace to a team like A & M Consolidated.

Coach Jim Speer seems to think the baseball team is something to see and fans are assured of plenty of action.

Home games are played about 4:00 in the evening and their is no admission charge at Yoe field, so what can you lose. Let's get together and give the boys some backing.

V O S

Speaking of baseball the Yoemen probably have one of the youngest lineups in the district.

Two freshmen are starting, Steve Malone at short and Ernest Bayer at first base. Bobby Griswold handles and Carroll Fikes third, both soph. Juniors are Griffin Barrett in left field and Triney Alvarez in right field. Seniors are Ray Tepera, catcher, Johnny Tepera, centerfield and Rodney Folschinsky.

V O S

It was noted this past week that Cameron hasn't had fair weather since 1956 for the Annual Invitational Tract Meet and this year was still no exception as icy winds swept Yoe Field throughout the morning causing officials to hold the finals that afternoon instead of the regularly planned night time event.

A&M Drops Yoe
11-8 For First
Baseball Score

The Cameron Yoemen lost their first official game of the baseball season Monday to A & M Consolidated 11-8 despite a 7 tally 6th inning.

Vic Clark hurled the ball by Yoe batters until the 6th inning when he was replaced and the Yoemen broke lose for 7 runs. Rodney Folschinsky took the loss for Cameron.

A & M picked up 3 runs in the first and another 3 in the second, 1 in the third, 1 in the fourth, 0 in the fifth, 3 in the sixth and 0 in the seventh.

Cameron didn't score until the fourth when they got 1 and then 7 in the sixth.

Cameron's leading hitters were Ray Tepera, 3 for 4 and Carroll Fikes, 2 for 4.

Fikes hurled the fifth and sixth for Cameron. Freshman Ernest Bayer made his mound debut in the seventh.

The Cameron HeraldA&M Head Urges
Facing The Facts

(Following is the second of two articles concerning the competitive position of our 18 state-supported colleges and universities and what it means to you.)

By Dr. M. T. Harrington
President, A&M College of Texas

Most parents today plan to give their children some form of college training that they may have a fuller life and be better equipped for the tasks ahead.

The 18 state-supported colleges and universities now are responsible for the education of forty-eight per cent of the students enrolled in Texas institutions of higher learning. Enrollments, which were 78,000 in 1957, are due to rise to 86,000 in 1959. Current high school enrollment makes this increase practically a certainty.

Whatever happens to the 13 state colleges and universities, then, will affect the future of at least half of the college boys and girls in Texas. More than sixty-six per cent of all the teachers in our Texas high schools and elementary schools are trained by our 18 state colleges and universities. If the quality of instruction in these institutions is lacking, our entire state public education system suffers.

Face The Facts

If we are to attain the goal of first-rate educational opportunity for your sons and daughters, your state colleges and universities must be in a position to do the training. And it is time for all of us to face the facts.

Your Texas colleges and universities have not been in a position to compete with similar colleges and universities in other states, with industry or with business for an adequate supply of top teaching talent.

During the past two years our 18 state colleges and universities lost 306 faculty members by resignation. Of these 203 are known to have left for higher salaries, ranging from $600 to more than $7,000 a year above what we were able to pay them.

Seven Faculty members left teaching for industry at salary increases ranging from $7,000 a year up. If they were worth that much more to industry, you may well imagine what these seven were worth to education in Texas. Our greatest loss, however, was to out-of-state colleges and universities, which took 131 of our staff members at salaries ranging from $600 to $6,000 more a year than we could pay. The majority of these received $2,600 to $4,000 more per year than we were paying them.

In addition to the important factor of salary, other inducements included additional research opportunities, better libraries and laboratories. You can easily understand why we believe your state

A Challenge... Accepted Or Denied?

A nationally known economist last week challenged Cameron to use its resources and especially its people to continue building Milam's county seat.

Dr. Arthur A. Smith, vice-president and economist of Dallas' First National Bank, was the spell-binding speaker whose words were forthright and practical. He was the No. 1 speaker of the annual Cameron Chamber banquet.

Crux of his speech was his analysis of Cameron's status in economy and attitude. In comparing notes, he outlined the apparent strong points of the community:

ONE—Adequate rail services.

TWO—Diversification in the general economy.

THREE—Centrally located residential city attractive to home owners.

FOUR—Good School facilities.

FIVE—Population of 7,000 people.

But he found a need for Cameron's improvement in downtown appearance and city-wide streets if growth is to continue. Smith said that industry, the determining factor in continued growth of this city, may be studying Cameron unnoticed for potential location of plants.

The Dallas economist emphasized the importance of improving what we have if we are to maintain stability in the future. Industry likes to see progressive attitude reflected in action, he said.

Smith said that towns of 4,000 or less depending solely on agriculture are ebbing away when once they were thriving communities. Towns Cameron's size or larger can move forward, he said, if they work at it.

Smith's information on agriculture was enlightening. He said farms are 50 percent larger in Texas as the rural population has fallen 12 percent in recent years. The farm productivity per agriculture worker is up 94 percent, higher than any other field of endeavor.

The 50 percent increase in size of Texas farms coincides with a 50 percent decrease of student population in Milam County. County school figures show that Milam County has gone from 10,769 students in 1933-34 to 5,010 in 1958-59. So Cameron and Milam County can see first hand what is happening to the farm picture.

Far from sounding any death knell, Smith was issuing a call to work in Cameron's case. Were the city smaller, less diversified, not building new streets, churches, armory, et al., perhaps we would draw a more ominous tone from his message.

We can draw from Smith's vast experience and our own observations to realize the job cut out for us if Cameron is to grow. Or we can allow "decay to settle in" as he said.

Which shall it be?

The Little River Philosopher
Finally Answers Question Whether Or Not He Considers Himself Lazy

Dear editor:

The other day a man asked if I was lazy.

"Whatta you mean?" I asked. I know his question would make some people mad, but it didn't bother me in the least and I just wanted to know what he meant.

"Well, I mean, you're always writing these letters to The Cameron Herald telling how much you sit around and read newspapers or figure out excuses for not working, and I was just wondering if you were lazy," he said.

Well, now, this is no question you answer yes or no, if you're a thinking man.

Laziness is not something which if you can succeed in labeling a man with, you've automatically proved he's worthless, or maybe even a menace.

Some of the world's worst problems have been caused by some of the world's busiest people.

Have you ever stopped to think how much better off the world would be and how much less your taxes would come to if Hitler had been a lazy man? And I imagine one of the hardest things to find in Russia today would be a lazy man. Furthermore, I doubt if it was laziness which caused the Japs to turn up at Pearl Harbor.

Understand, I'm not saying being busy is bad in itself, far from it; all I'm saying is that a person is bad either, I don't say that if shouldn't assume that looking lazy is bad either. I don't say that I all farmers were lazy, we wouldn't have a farm problem, but I guarantee you we wouldn't have a surplus.

You have no idea how much happiness is caused by laziness. Have you ever stopped to think how happy sports fans have been made because their opponents' team wasn't working hard?

Or take business. Say there are four service stations, one on each corner at an intersection, but I guarantee you there's business enough for only two. It's true the ones that hustle the most will get the most business and stay solvent, but have you ever stopped to think what would happen if they all four hustled at full blast, equally the same? The way I figure it is, you'd have four busted service stations.

I tell you laziness has got to be thought about a long while and turned over and examined on all sides before you put it down as useless. Of course, this doesn't always work out that way. I know some intersections in some towns where there's a service station on all four corners, not enough business for more than two, and all four are still there. Have been for years.

I don't understand this, any more than anybody understands the world situation either.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Capital Report

Stakes Are High In State Taxes Battle

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Stakes are high and playing rough as the tax battle at the State Capitol this spring moves into the "hammer and tongs" stage.

High state officials are laying their careers on the line when they take a stand.

On one side is Gov. Price Daniel, who wants to obtain needed new revenue through a program based primarily on taking over abandoned property, changing the book-keeping methods a bit and increasing corporation franchise taxes, natural gas taxes and certain selective sales taxes.

On the other side are a number of lawmakers, including House Speaker Waggoner Carr, who call the governor's plan inadequate. They contend Texas' revenue needs are great and should be "spread thinly" to cause the least injury. Cited as possible solutions by Carr were the nine-per cent omnibus tax by Reps. R. L. Strickland and Wesley Roberts, or Rep. H. J. Blanchard's 1 1/2 per cent gross receipts tax.

Some house members, of course, side with the governor. Just how many will go to each side will not be known definitely until a floor vote is taken.

But some people already are reminded of a session 20 years ago when then Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel got into a wild tax hassle with House members. O'Daniel used his Sunday morning radio broadcasts to blast steadily at 56 House members who blocked his push for a transactions (sales) tax. Price Daniel was one of the 56.

So far this session, Governor Daniel is focusing his ire on the "powerful lobbyists" who he says are blocking his tax program. Most of Daniel's proposals have been bogged down in the House Taxation Committee since the first of the session.

Whether they intend to push the governor's bills or some others, the tax committee members have made a move toward speed by adopting a Monday-through-Friday work schedule.

Not Gas

No tax proposal thus far has brought a solid round of cheers. Spokesmen for the gas industry told the House Taxation Committee the governor's proposed natural gas tax would have to be paid by Texas producers, not out-of-state users, as sponsors claimed. They contended it would increase the industry's burden to 43 per cent, seriously impairing ability to stay in business, let alone contribute to Texas' growth.

Several House committee members were openly hostile to the bill.

City Boys Ho'nsuggled

In a couple of recent city vs. country votes in the House, the "city boys" were completely outdone by their country cousins.

This is not unusual in the frequent clashes over rural and urban interests, since rural area lawmakers now predominate. But with the cities growing so fast, the rural group fears that one more census and re-districting will tip the scales.

They hope to head this off in a constitutional amendment proposed by Rep. Will Ehrle of Childress that would limit any one county to nine representatives. Despite city protests, it passed the amendments committee, 10-6.

Cities lost again in the House floor vote on a bill which would allow farmers with 10 acres of land to "disannex" themselves from a city.

Easier Pond Permits

Farmers won, too, when the House passed a bill that would make it easier to get a permit to dam up small ponds for irrigation.

Rep. Murray Watson's bill would change the law governing ponds of less than 200 acre feet. These may be constructed without a Water Board permit for domestic and livestock use. For irrigation use, a permit is required which farmers complained was far too complicated, expensive and difficult to get.

Sen. Bill Wood of Tyler is sponsoring an identical bill in the U. S. House.

Advertising "Pro" Urged

Senators are studying two different approaches to putting into effect the new constitutional amendment permitting state-financed advertising of Texas.

Senator George Parkhouse of Dallas, an advertising man for many years, insists professional ad men should be at the helm of the program. He suggests a five-member state advertising council. Four members would be existing state officials; the chairman and executive director would be an advertising professional.

Original bill sponsored by Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi would set up a Development Council of the governor and chairmen of the Highway Commission and Industrial Commission. Highway Commission would take care of luring tourists and the Industrial Commission would seek to attract new industry.

After Parkhouse protested this arrangement, Senate State Affairs Committee decided to give it some more study.

Cameron CYO Wins District Volleyball Title

Cameron's CYO boys won the District volleyball title defeating Frisstat 15-5 and 15-3. The Cameron girls lost their first game of the season and the district championship to Dime Box.

In games played last week the Cameron boys ended the season with a perfect record making them eligible for the playoff for the Austin Diocese title.

SW Conference Sports

Tom Murray's Column

MILTON JOWERS is one of those enigmas of collegiate sports. The Southwest Texas basketball coach is one of the best teachers of the hardwood sport operating in the United States.

To tote his victories would be to flout with notoriety, for his Bobcats have won so often championships outnumbering victories of lesser endowed mentors.

Jowers is an enigma because despite this reputation he is a relative nobody when it comes to major collegiate basketball.

When he was first mentioned for the University of Texas coaching position, one fellow asked: "Who in the devil is he?" That is pathetic when it is realized Jowers is probably better equipped than five of eight well-known Southwest Conference tutors.

To solidify his reputation as a teacher, consider the top schoolboy mentors he has produced. That is one measuring stick used on big-time football coaches like Bud Wilkinson or Bob Neyland. Hank Iba and Aloph Rupp are better known for the basketball coaches they have milled.

Jowers has sent many to the high school front, but two of them—Clear Creek's George Carlisle and Lockhart's Bobby Roberts—are among the best in the state.

Carlisle's lads have won six consecutive district championships and own a statewide reputation. Probably his best coaching came this winter when his lads won again despite below par ability.

Roberts is where Carlisle was six years ago. At Lockhart, a good football town, he is building a basketball dynasty. He produced the Lions' first district title in nine years in only his second year on the job. He did it by introducing fundamentals, shrewdly using his lads where he could get the best out of their potential and enticing their love for the game.

Jowers, Roberts and Carlisle—three big names in Texas basketball.

ROBERTS, discussing Lockhart's title: "We certainly didn't expect to win this year, however we did know that if we were ever going to it it had to be this season with four senior starters returning".

We keep thinking about the advice Jake Smith, Liberty publisher, gave his readers: "Remember that the best place to find a helping hand is at the end of your arm."

The expected brawl between La Marque's H. G. Anderson and Bob Harwerth for a starting left-guard position during Texas spring training did not come about when Harwerth was injured. One UT line coach thinks Larry Stephens can make the All-teams if the big Angleton senior tackle-to-be continues as he did in spring training. El Campo and Bay City, about as amiable as UT and A&M in athletics, are expected to battle again for the district track title. Bay City grabbed last spring. But El Campo is mighty strong with Eugene Dornak and Ben Krenek around. Bob Moses, outstanding UT frosh out of Richmond, has been shifted to fullback to utilize his speed.

when Baytown's Bill Young, all-state schoolboy tackle, quit Texas for Sam Houston State, the Bearkats acquired a great all-around athlete. The 6-7, 215-pounder can high jump 6-1, broad-jump 21 feet and his basketball potential is unlimited.

"We believe he's one of the state's outstanding quarterbacks," Taylor Coach Don Ford says of his all-state halfback, Donnie Smith, headed for TCU. The 6-1, 180-pound Smith, one of the most-sought running-backs in Texas, will play man-under in Abe Martin's Purple-T. Ford played him at halfback only because he needed him there. He can throw the ball with anybody. His papa was a 1935 Froggie and his uncle Jay, a wealthy Austinite, was captain of the 1938 TCU basketball team.

Use of Fertilizers

Want more information on fertilizers and how to use them? If you do, ask your local county agent for a copy of B-167, "Fertilizers and Their Use" recently released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Soil Chemist W. F. Bennett, author of the publication, points out that plants are much like humans. They need air to breathe, water to drink and foods or nutrients for growth and reproduction. If one of these essentials is missing, the plants wither and die.

Milam County Men

On U of T Honor Roll

The first semester scholastic honor roll for the University of Texas College of Engineering included two Milam County men according to Engineering Dean W. W. Hagerty.

Lionel David Provazek of Cameron and Harry Gordon Harris, Jr. of Rockdale were listed as Ampla Cum Laude honor students by Dean Hagerty.

TEL Class Meets

Sixteen members and two guests of the TEL Class of the First Baptist Church met last week at the home of Mrs. John T. Hause for prayers followed by a covered dish luncheon. Prayers were led by Mrs. John A. Smith Sr. and Mrs. Hause. Mrs. Annie Reece gave the devotional and Mrs. I. N. West presented a song.

Glass The Florist Offers Variety In Easter Plants

This is the week to remember loved ones with Easter corsages and lovely Easter Lily plants from Glass the Florist in Cameron and Rosebud.

Corsages are expertly made by Glass the Florist to suit all ages and add beauty to Easter Clothes.

After 27 years in the wholesale and retail business, there is little doubt that "when you say it with flowers in Cameron and Rosebud, Glass the Florist says it best." In fact two generations of Glass, the Florists, make floral service and selection a pleasure and delight regardless of the occasion.

Co-owners Mr. and Mrs. Lester

Glass and son, Donald Glass, present an array of flowers for that special occasion that makes a remembrance from Glass, the Florist something really special.

Donald Glass points out that potted plants, sprays, corsages, bouquets, cut flowers and any other floral requirement are available in a spectrum of selections.

Greenhouse Fresh

He emphasizes that flowers by Glass are greenhouse fresh to their customers. Glass, the Florist grows most of their flowers in their own local greenhouses.

Freshly picked, the flowers are beautifully arranged by the skilled floral decorators at Glass, the Florist. And they are delivered in fast efficient manner by one of five trucks working in Cameron and a truck in Rosebud, he points out.

"We consider the floral occasion in recommending types of flowers and their arrangements to our customers. We strive for the personal touch that flowers convey when they are given as a gift or special remembrance."

Glass's floral arrangements for funerals are done with dignity and grace befitting the need, Glass says. And equal care is devoted to flower and scenic arrangements for weddings and parties.

Marines Offer New Program To Senior Students

"Enlist now, but finish school while completing part of their lawful service obligation" is the offer to high school seniors by the Marine Corps this year through Marine Recruiting Sergeant Frank A. Bukowsky.

Sergeant Bukowsky will visit the Cameron post office on Friday April 3 from 8:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and will have complete details on how high school seniors looking forward to graduation this spring can attend classes but as United States Marines who do not go on active duty until the date they choose.

The advantage to the young person enlisting in this program is two-fold according to Bukowsky. The time spent in the program is counted towards the lawful military obligation and the enlistee is assured of being accepted as a Marine regardless of any quota limitation imposed on the Corps.

Trees Form Monuments

By Vern Sanford

Some men erect buildings that serve as monuments for years to come. Others build bridges. A few become giants of commerce and industry. All make great names for themselves.

Did it ever occur to you that the man who plants a simple little tree that grows and grows and grows also builds a monument that may last for a hundred years?

Perhaps one of the greatest as well as one of the simplest things any individual can do, to project himself into posterity, is to plant a tree. It certainly is a satisfying accomplishment, to say the least, and one that increases in stature as time goes on.

If one tree can do so much for mankind, then think what hundreds of trees can do. Or a thousand trees planted by one man.

With this thought in mind I became especially interested in a recent news release from the Texas Forest Industries Committee. It said that Dr. S. R. Warner, a retired department head at Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, has been voted the outstanding Texas Tree Farmer of 1958.

Dr. Warner owns 2,000 acres of timberland scattered throughout Walker, San Jacinto and Grimes Counties. It isn't rich land.

But Dr. Warner enjoyed the outdoors. He worked in the woods. He planted a few trees where others had been removed. He took his biology class into the woods and there the members also learned about trees.

Dr. Warner began to assemble his acreage back in the 1930's, when most everyone else was crying about the depression. After his daily classes he went into the for-

SW Life Insurance Reports Records In 56th Statement

Southwestern Life Insurance Company's 56th annual financial statement, released today, revealed new records in almost every phase of the Company's business operations in 1958.

The company is represented in Cameron by James W. Wiggs. President James Ralph Wood said new life insurance issued totaled $336,622,650 an increase of 26.9 per cent over the amount issued in 1957. Of this amount, $29,152,167 was reinsurance assumed, and $3,722,114 was ordinary insurance originally issued or reinsured by Estate Life Insurance Company of Amarillo and assumed by Southwestern Life through the State Liquidator. The remainder of $303,748,369 was acquired through the Company's own agency organization, which for the tenth consecutive year achieved a record in the production of new business.

Insurance in force at the end of the year was $1,808,208,504, a twelve-month gain of $192,721,582 and the largest annual increase ever recorded by the Company.

perch, Jensen and a half-dozen others.

Texas has a leadership in boat manufacturing. There are such companies as Whitehouse, Fleetform, Lone Star, Texas Maid, Red Fish, Yellow Jacket, Bilt-Well, A. R. A., Glastron, Glass Magic, Glass flite, Continental, Holmes, Helton and many others that are adapted to our particular waters.

There are good boat-trailer manufacturing firms in Texas too—to name a few, the Little Dude and the Imperial of Fort Worth; the Lone Star and the Dok-King of Grand Prairie; and the Chief of Dallas.

These farms, dating back to the days of the Republic, are in the Houston County group. They cover 655 acres of the 13,415 acres already booked in the program in this area.

Throughout Texas there are 1,111 tree farms covering 3,669,774 acres. This puts Texas in third place in the nation in certified acreage. Mississippi first and Alabama second.

With a tree program like this, Texas will continue to have wildlife for a long time. This is particularly true through the new soil bank program which gives credit for wildlife habitat practices. Under this program landowners may enter their land in the program and still harvest a crop—wildlife. Whether you realize it or not, as a hunter or fisherman, you are helping in this program. Excise taxes on hunting and fishing equipment are helping do this job.

The Dingell-Johnson bill, which provides for fishery work, showed a collection for 1957 of $4,904,822.41. That is up some $270,000 over the previous year.

Under the Pittman-Robertson act the collection on guns and ammunition totaled $14,617,360.75. This was a half-million less than 1957.

Money derived from these two sources is used by the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service on a matching basis with state funds. There is Federal aid up to 75 per cent of state wildlife conservation agencies.

Texas is taking full advantage of its apportionment—the maximum under the present formula.

Texas' Outdoors Industry
There is a growing demand in Texas for hunting and fishing equipment. As a result more and more Texas manufacturers are springing up to turn out outdoors merchandise.

For example, not many know it, but in Texas there is a rod manufacturer making high class glass rods. It is the Makit Rod Co. of Ft. Worth. In Houston is the Central Specialty Co. which makes a fish hook disgorger that is sold nation-wide.

In San Antonio an electric reel is manufactured for use on party boats fishing in deep water for red snapper in the Gulf of Mexico; while in Tyler a fellow by the name of Hilton Meigs is making an aluminum portable kitchen, sold all over the United States.

In Bellaire, near Houston, True Tone Game Calls, Inc. is making a quail call that is most natural. Another Houston firm is making decoys out of 56-ounce juice cans.

Practically every city of any size in Texas has a manufacturer turning out good fishing lures or some kind of device for fishermen. If not that, then bullets, mounts and scopes, game calls, clothes or camping equipment for the hunter.

Some of the award-winning fish caught in the United States the past season were taken on Texas made lures. They include the Bomber, Whopper Stopper, Dixie Jets, Old English, Hump Lures, Hawk Lures, Sportsman Lures, Pico

We invite a closer look...

HOW MANY ELECTRIC SERVANTS HAVE YOU?

Time was when your electric bill was mainly a "light bill." Many of us can remember how happy we were to have clean, economical electric lights replace kerosene lamps.

Over the years, electricity has opened a completely new and wonderful way of life that most folks take for granted.

No longer do we merely have a "light bill." A closer look at modern living shows that today we enjoy cool, clean electric cooking, electric refrigeration and air conditioning, electric toasters, dishwashers, garbage disposals, television, radio and dozens of other conveniences made possible through plentiful, low-cost electricity. Truly electricity is the biggest bargain in the family budget.

Yes, although the cost of living has gone up 108% since 1936, and costs of doing business have risen rapidly, the average price per unit of T&L residential electricity has gone down 43%. Texas Power & Light Company... a business-managed, tax-paying public utility... pledges its continued efforts toward keeping your supply of electricity plentiful... and the price low.
